

Starting at 8.5 cents per source word, are rates are well below the market average. To calculate the exact rate, we need to see the text you want to have translated. There are various factors which determine the final rate, such as difficulty of the text, number of words, area of expertise, language combination and amount of research necessary.

- Certified translations
- Transparent, keen prices!
- High quality: native speaker principle and consistency!
- IT expertise: processing of various formats
- Telephone conferences: with and without a specialist interpreter (DialogVox.com)

We employ 1,200 translators with professional expertise in 43 language combinations and assemble a suitable team with the respective industry knowledge for every assignment. We are also more than happy to translate presentations, flyers or press releases for you.

Prices

Settlement basis	Price (net, plus VAT)
 Standard line (55 characters)	£ 0.63 per line
Word	approx. 8.5 pence per word
 Standard line (55 characters)	€ 0.74 per line
Word	approx. 9,5 pence per word
 Standard line (55 characters)	$ 0,97 per line
Word	approx. 11,11 pence per word

(Specialised texts after consultation)

For you as our customer it is important that you can trust in our work so that you can be sure that your ideas of quality and customer service are implemented accordingly. Therefore, we have already been working according to the specifications of the current standard DIN EN 15038 for translation services for a long time.

We have undergone an official test by the responsible LICIS (Technical Inspection Authority for translation offices) which precisely documents and ensures all criteria of order processing conforming to standards - from the receipt of the text to be translated to the delivery of a first class, high quality translation.

We are happy to inform you that our translation bureau is certified according to the quality standard DIN EN 15038. Only a handful of translation bureaus in Euro has such a formidable certification.

Our process structures, our specialist translators as well as the technical background which we have at our disposal were able to convince the inspectors of the DIN.

Of course, we are also still at your disposal as a certified service provider at the accustomed terms and conditions. We thank you for your confidence and for the good collaboration and as of now we can also tend to special requests which relate to the standard.